„The Pearl of Vihorlat mountains" – such an epithet that does not need any further comments is frequently associated with huge Vihorlat lake, mostly known as the Sea eye (Morské oko). Its inherent part is an original manor hunting house. Remetské Hamre is a village which is known for its iron industry production directly connected to the nearby town Sobrance. Moreover, once there you could find mighty mansions. Do you know what connects the village with New York City?

Sobrance – Russayho vila / Russay villa

The story about Empress Elizabeth´s (who was also known as Sissi) maid, renovated Jewish cemetery, former famous spas with healing water, unique guitar museum, reconstructed Russay´s villa, an area famous for its excellent wine industry... In Sobrance and the surrounding area you can find interesting things – several of them are known far from the territory of the region thanks to their importance...
